Fire Department Responds To Call At Middle School

In response to a mutual aid call at 9:18 o'clock this morning, the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department sent six firemen and one unit to Carmel Middle School, where a bulldozer working near the gymnasium had pulled up the main gas line into the school. They were relieved after the arrival of the Carmel Hill State Forestry Division unit and Pacific Gas and Electric equipment.

Former Sunset School's fire alarm system was set off Monday at 1:28 p.m., bringing the fire department to the building at Mission and Tenth which houses the Carmel Adult School ceramic classes. The new kiln, being fired-up for the first time, had generated sufficient heat to activate the alarm but no fire was found.

Planners Postpone Public Hearings

With only four members present, the Carmel planning commission did not have the necessary quorum to hold the public hearings on yesterday afternoon's agenda. These were postponed until the meeting of the commission next Wednesday.

Slated for hearing at that time are a use permit allowing Jack Patterson to divide 33,200 square feet of sand dune land north of Ocean Avenue, formerly the property of Elizabeth McClung White, into four building sites; and another use permit for W. R. Junk to establish two half-lots as one building site on the west side of San Carlos between Thirteenth and Santa Lucia.

An ad hoc committee report on a use and variance permit for Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Vasconcellos to have a third story basement parking garage, also building frontage in excess of 80 feet, in a development on the west side of Junipero between Third and Fourth avenues also was continued until next week.

Other matters on next week's agenda will be the setting of a public hearing on the city's proposed parking ordinance requiring off-street spaces, or payment of an "in lieu" tax to the city, for all new commercial construction. Reclassification of a residential lot on the east side of Dolores below Ninth for parking use by the Carmel Red Cross chapter will be considered. A "zone of in-

Wearing the MacKenzie tartan, the First Salinas Valley Highlanders, on Sunday, will parade from the city hall to the Forest Theater where they will play Scottish Highland music under the auspices of the Carmel Arts Commission.

The group was organized in 1962 in Salinas and has participated in numerous parades and civic functions and has appeared before social and fraternal groups. The tartan worn is the same as that worn by the Seaforth Highland Regiment.

Sergeant Richard Kirkland, U.S. Army, Fort Ord, who has had many years of experience with pipe bands, is currently acting as drum major for the band as well as bass and tenor drum instructor. He served with the 7th Cavalry in Germany at which time he was drum major for the regimental pipe band.

The parade will start at 1:15 p.m. and follow the local tradition set by the Stuart Highlanders of marching up Ocean Avenue to the Forest Theater.

The band concert will start at approximately 2 p.m. and there is no admission charge.

Salinas Valley Agriculturists Fight Refinery

"I am very encouraged by the spontaneous opposition which has arisen in the Salinas Valley," says Earl Moser of Carmel, co-chairman of Citizens for Clean Air, a group which is fighting the granting of a special county permit allowing Humble Oil Company to build and operate an oil refinery at Moss Landing. He urges Pine Cone readers to support this opposition.

The Salinas area, led by growers and packers, is being organized to oppose the granting of the permit by the board of supervisors on September 2, Mr. Moser reports.

Guided by David Williams of Bruce Church Inc., agriculturists of the Salinas area have formed a committee.

A similar group of agriculturists, led by Larry Hearne and T. W. Thwaites, has organized in the King City, Greenfield and Soledad area of the Salinas Valley.

Both groups will bring top experts on air pollution and plant damage to discuss potential danger to the valuable and sensitive crops of the Salinas Valley, posed by an oil refinery, at a public meeting in Greenfield on August 26.

In the Pajaro Valley, cut flower growers under the leadership of Mits Nakashima are opposing the Humble Oil permit. The cut flower industry has had tremendous growth in the Pajaro Valley during the last year. It was driven out of the Los Angeles and San Francisco Bay areas by air pollution.

Mr. Nakashima predicts that, if the air of Monterey County remains unpolluted by a refinery, the center of the multi-million dollar cut flower industry of the United States will develop in this area. In fact, he prophesies that the Pajaro Valley and other parts of Monterey County may well become the world center of the cut flower industry.

Mr. Moser emphasizes that Citizens for Clean Air is standing ready to help opposition to the Humble Oil Company refinery permit.

He asks Pine Cone readers to assist in the fight against possible air or water pollution by acquainting friends and acquaintances in the Salinas Valley and Seaside of the potential danger of an oil refinery at Moss Landing.

He asks the same readers to urge residents of these two regions to write or telephone the county supervisor from their area protesting issuance of the special permit next month.

Mr. Moser also urges Carmel area residents to write or telephone the county supervisors, especially those who do not represent this area, and similarly give their views why the oil refinery permit should not be granted. The addresses of all members of the Monterey County Board of Supervisors are printed below.

Warren Church, 470 Hidden Valley Road, Watsonville.

Arthur C. Atteridge, 116 San Juan, Salinas.

Harold C. Henry, 316 North 2nd Street, King City.

Beauford T. Anderson, 1155 Ricardo Court, Seaside.

Thomson J. Hudson, Polk and Hartnell streets, Monterey.

On July 28, members of the Monterey County Planning Commission denied the Humble Oil permit by a 5-4 vote. Mr. Moser, and the other co-chairman of Citizens for Clean Air, Charles B. Kramer of Pebble Beach, led the organized opposition to the permit and supplied detailed information on air pollution to substantiate their stand. A Clean Air Committee petition, signed by 15,000 persons, most of them Monterey Peninsula residents, opposed the refinery. Mr. Williams of Bruce Church Inc. and Mr. Nakashima, representing cut flower growers, spoke against the refinery at this hearing.

Carmel, Highlands And Limekiln Developments Before County Planners

Set for zoning and use permit public hearing by the Monterey County Planning Commission on Wednesday is a development at Limekiln Creek below Big Sur; and Carmel Views subdivision north of Rancho Rio Vista in Lower Carmel Valley. Also to be considered by the commission the same day is an application for additional development at River Inn on Highway One beside the Carmel River bridge and a tentative subdivision in the Malpaso Creek area south of Carmel Highlands.

Harold Treacy is asking for the Limekiln Creek development which includes a trout farm, trailer camp, airport and art gallery. He plans to use several hundred acres of the old Cowell Foundation land for this purpose. A few years ago another developer was given permission for a campground on the property. The new development, including the landing strip, will be up Limekiln Canyon and invisible from Highway One. Mr. Treacy has no immediate plans for the airstrip construction.

Russell Galloway of Carmel is the developer of Carmel Views. Approval of his 210-acre subdivision has been held up for months pending development of a slope density plan for Carmel Valley development. This plan was presented to county planners on Monday.

The Malpaso subdivision will occupy land east and west of Highway One south of Malpaso Creek. The Peninsula firm of Hall and Goodhue has been retained by E. T. Komsthoeft of San Mateo to plan the subdivision. Total land area involved is 309 acres of which 231 acres will be open space. The number of dwellings planned is 146. They will be constructed two to an acre.

The subdivision accomplishes the objectives of the Coast Master Plan. A scenic corridor will be provided by setbacks along the highway. On the west side of the coast road, 20 acres will be in scenic easement to protect views of the coast from the road.

The River Inn zoning application is for permission to construct apartments. A motel and restaurant are now in operation on the River Inn property.

H. R. Fonseca, a member of River Inn Developers, stated this morning that plans for the apartment development, which are being prepared by Will Shaw of the architectural firm of Burde, Shaw Associates, will probably not be ready for the meeting of the county planning commission next week.

CRAFT SHOW AT FAIR

The Carmel Crafts Guild is managing the crafts exhibit at the 1965 Monterey County Fair for the 16th year. Men of the guild built the log structure which now houses ceramics, jewelry, leather, metals, textiles, decorations, stone cutting and polishing, weaving, woodworking and other craft exhibits. In addition, crafts-in-action demonstrations will be presented during the five days of the fair. Dora Crabtree is the chairman of the exhibit display.

The Rhyming Philosopher

By Harry W. Fletcher

No. 121

I'd sing a song of summer days
If I had songs to sing,
Like contemplating lovers ways
In life's meandering.

Maybe I'd sing of Lucy's lure,
Of Wendy's wanton wiles;
Or Annabelle's cool curvature,
And Daisy's daring smiles.

Sweet Gwendoline brings memories,
Though Alice was a dear,
And Mabel mostly loved to tease,
Like Maud the mutineer.

While I could tell of Bess or Ann,
I keep remembering
A man who calls himself a man
Will never, never sing.

Building Inspector To Join Lockheed Research Planners

Carmel's chief building inspector, Richard G. Thomas, has resigned to take a position with the Lockheed Missile and Space Company in Sunnyvale. He will begin work on the company's research and development planning staff on Monday.

Mr. Thomas is returning to the type of employment which he left in 1963 when Aerojet General moved from Monterey to Southern California. Mr. Thomas did not wish to move away from Carmel and became associated with the city building inspector's office. When Floyd Adams became Carmel's planning director, Mr. Thomas succeeded him as chief inspector.

Before joining the staff of Aerojet, Mr. Thomas spent 23 years in the U.S. Army. He retired in 1959 with the rank of colonel. As a member of the artillery, he worked with missiles during his military career.

Lockheed sought him out to offer him a position. Mr. Thomas says he has "thoroughly enjoyed his work in Carmel," but is looking forward to being one of the group which plans Lockheed's research effort.

He is undecided whether he and his wife, Alice, will move away from Carmel, or whether he will commute between here and Sunnyvale. The Thomases' son, Dick, graduated from Carmel High School in June and will enter Fresno State College in September.

Whatever he decides, Mr. Thomas is convinced he will retain the house he owns in Carmel, even if it is not his permanent residence. "Carmel is home," he says.

County Fair Opens Wednesday Morning

"Around the World in Five Fair Days" is the theme of the 1965 Monterey County Fair which opens on Wednesday and ends August 29. The fair's national horse show will run concurrently at the fairgrounds in Monterey.

An international atmosphere will prevail throughout the many exhibits and a group of theme girls will add interest to the colorful events. Decorations will be in keeping with the theme borrowed from the Jules Verne classic, "Around the World in Eighty Days."

The theme girls are Kathy Oakey as Miss Latin America; Jolie Burg, Miss North America; Judy Getz, Miss Europe; Pat Bell, Miss Orient; Juanita Partridge, Miss Pacific Islands; and Dorothy Vaughn, Miss Africa.

Livestock, agricultural products, homemaking, horticulture, arts, crafts and photography will be featured. Free shows will be presented on an outdoor stage and the carnival will, as usual, attract young and old. Food will be served from numerous booths along the midway.

FAIR BOOTH TO SHOW HOW DAILY PAPER IS PRODUCED

Photo-murals which show graphically how a daily newspaper is produced are being prepared for an exhibition booth at the Monterey County Fair by a committee headed by Philip B. Ortley of Carmel. The exhibit will feature the Christian Science Monitor, an international daily newspaper, published in Boston, Los Angeles and London.

Pictures will show how Monitor correspondents in 80 countries gather the news, and will follow the step-by-step production of the paper, until the finished copies are mailed to readers in 120 different countries.

HIGH TWELVE PROGRAM

At their luncheon meeting on Monday, members of the Carmel High Twelve Club will hear a talk on "Project Apollo" by Alex King of the public relations department of the Pacific Telephone Company. The guest speaker will be introduced by B. L. Manuel, district manager of the company.

All Masons are invited to attend the meeting at Cypress Club on Lincoln Avenue between Seventh and Eighth Streets.

Frank Wallace To Return To Nepal With Peace Corps

Two years ago, Nepalese villagers held their first elections to select councils to govern themselves. Helping them to grasp administrative processes have been 40 community development Peace Corps Volunteers, among them Frank Wallace of Carmel, who will soon return to Nepal for another tour of duty, this time as an administrative field officer, with 37 replacement volunteers.

In teams of two, the volunteers were sent into districts comparable to counties, where they worked with a Nepalese district officer and young government development workers. Frank and his companion lived in a village schoolhouse, two days walk from the capital of Katmandu. There they made their own furniture, with tools supplied by the Peace Corps, and managed their "house" with the meagre supplies available. Such major items as shoes necessitated a trek to Katmandu. Unlike the natives, they had wool clothing and sleeping bags for which they were thankful when the cold winds swept down from the nearby Himalayas in the winter.

Frank, who is visiting his mother, Mrs. DeForest Sweeney, mentioned that making friends with the Nepalese villagers was a slow, difficult process. He mentioned also, his profound admiration for the Peace Corps physician assigned to care for the needs of the 150 volunteers in Nepal.

During his leave last winter, Frank spent Christmas in Bangkok with his mother and her husband, who were on an around-the-world tour during Mr. Sweeney's sabbatical leave from the English department at Monterey Peninsula College. The dedicated volunteer also traveled to Teheran to visit his cousin, William Miller, a member of the American Embassy in Iran.

TOPICAL SPEAKERS FOR CWDC MEETING

"Education and Poverty in California" will be the subject of a talk by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wyatt of Pasadena at a luncheon meeting tomorrow of the Carmel Women's Democratic Club at La Playa Hotel.

Mr. Wyatt, past president of CDC, is volunteer head of the Anti-Poverty Program in Los Angeles County and heads the Human Needs Committee in Pasadena. His wife is a member of the Governor's Board on Compensatory Education.

The 12 noon meeting is open to the public and reservations may be made with La Playa dining room.

"THE COUNTESS OF ROTHES"

Authentic Paintings By 18th Century Masters To Be Sold In Carmel

Four authenticated paintings by 18th century masters—three English and one French—will be sold to the highest bidder at the Fine Arts Gallery of Carmel either tonight, Friday, Saturday or Sunday.

According to Stanley Bier, president of the Fine Arts Gallery corporation, the pictures are from the estate of the late motion picture actress, Marion Davies. Twelve large portraits of Miss Davies in costumes she wore for various movie roles also will be included in the total contents of her Beverly Hills home offered for public sale this weekend.

The 18th century paintings are "The Countess of Rothes" by Sir Joshua Reynolds (1723-1792); "James Erskine, Esq." by Sir Henry Raeburn (1756-1823); "Mrs. Briggs" by Sir Thomas Lawrence (1769-1830); and "Un Jeune Garcon" by Jean Baptiste Greuze (1725-1805).

The Reynolds portrait sold for $25,000 at the Clement A. Grissom auction sale in New York in 1914.

Mr. Bier says the pictures will be offered for sale with no minimum bid specified. The gallery is situated on the east side of San Carlos Street between Fifth and Sixth avenues.

Lieutenant Paul Thomas Converse (USN) and Mrs. Converse, the former Camilla Bird Doe, are seen leaving All Saints' Episcopal Church beneath an honor guard's arch of crossed sabers following their wedding on Saturday. The afternoon ceremony was performed by the Reverend David Hill.

Camilla, given in marriage by her father, Major General Jens Anderson Doe (USA Ret.) of Carmel, wore a gown of imported silk, the fitted bodice covered with lace and embroidered with seed pearls. Its full-length skirt, flaring into a slight A-shape, extended into a cathedral train to which she fastened a single Brussels lace butterfly that had been worn by her grandmother when she married. A Spanish lace mantilla fell from a tiny tiara on her hair and her slippers were made of matching lace. She carried a sunburst arrangement of lillies of the valley.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Donald Gotthold of Berkeley, was gowned in a full-length sheath of azalea pink satin. She wore a matching veil and slippers and carried a bouquet of peppermint roses.

Serving as Lieutenant Converse's best man was Lieutenant N. Leon Wardle of Monterey. Ushers and honor guard members were Lieutenant Commander Melvin W. Jasper (USN), Lieutenant Donald Evans (USMC), Lieutenant William Boissenin (USN), Lieutenant Robert Riddell (USN), Lieutenant j.g. Alan McClenaghan (USN) and Lieutenant j.g. Frank H. Hall III (USN).

For the reception which followed, the Officers Club at the Presidio of Monterey was decorated, as was the church, with gladioli in myriad hues of pink and white pompom chrysanthemums. Guests toasted the newlyweds with champagne and watched them cut a tiered wedding cake with the bride's father's West Point saber.

Mrs. Doe greeted guests wearing a shell pink lace sheath with jacket and matching accessories.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Paul O. Converse chose a suit of mint green brocade.

The couple's honeymoon destination was unknown to all but Lieutenant Converse, who planned the entire trip as a surprise for his bride. They will return to make their home in Alameda where the bridegroom is stationed.

Camilla graduated from Castellaja School in Palo Alto and Garland Junior College in Boston. She taught at the American High School in Taipei, Taiwan, last year and this year traveled to Tainan as the representative of its sister city, Monterey. Among the many congratulatory telegrams received was one from Mayor Yeh and the people of Tainan, with "Sincerest wishes for life of happiness."

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Converse of Canby, Oregon, Lieutenant Converse graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1959, and in May of this year from the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey.

Seattle Architect Here

Jonathan Rigdon, who spent much of his childhood here, and his family are in Carmel for a week as guests of his parents, Colonel J. M. Rigdon (USA ret.) and Mrs. Rigdon. A Seattle architect, Jonathan and his wife, Ann, and two children, Michael and Jennifer, are residents of Bellevue, Washington.

Jonathan is enjoying getting reacquainted with Carmel and looks forward, particularly, to a reunion tonight with his former Sunset School classmate, Francis P. "Skip" Lloyd and his family.

Producers Vacationing

Ivan and Jaleen Holm, co-producers of the King Dodo Players, are vacationing here with their children. "It's our first vacation in ages," reports Mrs. Holm, "but here I am, still rushing around up to my neck in theatrical matters."

The group of professionals tours the San Francisco Bay Area and Peninsula down to San Jose and is currently presenting "Come Blow Your Horn" on Wednesday evenings at the dinner theater in the round, The Brass Lantern, in San Juan.

Mrs. Stilwell Celebrates

That Mrs. Joseph W. Stilwell thrives on the happy confusion engendered by a housefull of children was apparent on the occasion, yesterday, of her 76th birthday. Its official celebration will be delayed until tomorrow, when visiting granddaughter Laurie Cameron turns 14.

Laurie and her sister, Cathy, are awaiting the Monday arrival of their parents, Colonel and Mrs. William R. Cameron (Alison Stilwell), and their brother, Bruce, from Washington D.C. The family is en route to Quito, Ecuador, where Colonel Cameron is to be head of the Military Advisory Group.

Also visiting Mrs. Stilwell are her daughter, Nancy, and her husband, Major General E. F. Easterbrook, new deputy commander at the Presidio of San Francisco, and their two youngest children, Nancy and Jim. The Easterbrooks recently returned from two years' residence in Bangkok. Mrs. Stilwell neglected to say where the children's pet gibbon, "Fuzz," is sleeping.

NRPA Director

State Senator Fred S. Farr of Carmel has been elected to the board of trustees of the newly organized National Recreation and Park Association. Laurence S. Rockefeller, president of the American Conservation Association Inc., and the Rockefeller Brothers Fund, has accepted the presidency of the new non-profit education and service organization.

Announcement of the elections was made by James H. Evans, chairman of the board of trustees, following the first meeting of NRPA. Mr. Evans noted that outstanding leaders in recreation, parks and conservation from all parts of the nation have been asked to be trustees of the NRPA.

A Summer Home

Long frequent week end visitors on the Peninsula, Mr. and Mrs. LeGrand A. Gould of Menlo Park and their sons, Stephen and "Topper," are now "permanent" summer residents of Pebble Beach, where Mr. and Mrs. Gould can indulge their enthusiasm for golf. Their sons, when not attending Carmel summer school classes, can usually be found in their Mercury sailboats at Stillwater Cove.

Mrs. Tucker Visited

Mrs. Edwin Tucker, the former Mrs. Margaret Hansen of Carmel, has returned to Tucson, where Dr. Tucker now practices, after a brief visit at the Carmel home of Mr. and Mrs. Van King Jr. An opportunity for her many local friends to see her was provided on Saturday evening when Mrs. D. Paul McKelvey entertained at a cocktail party and buffet supper in her home.

Before coming to Carmel, Mrs. Tucker visited her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Fraser (Carolyn Hansen) at Concord.

Receives Episcopal Honor

The Reverend Samuel Leslie Hall is one of five young Episcopal ministers chosen by the Executive Council of the Episcopal Church of the United States to study for the academic year 1965-66 at Saint Augustine's College at Canterbury, Kent, England. Father Hall has been granted a sabbatical year from his position as rector of Saint Stephen's Episcopal Church in Whittier.

Father Hall and his wife, Kitty, with their children, Leslie, Geoffrey and Stuart, spend their summers and vacations in Carmel at the home of Mrs. Hill's mother, Mrs. Stuart Symington Goode.

On August 29, Mrs. Goode will honor them with a bon voyage party at her home. Mr. and Mrs. J. Leslie Hall of Los Angeles, Father Hall's parents, will be vacationing in Carmel at the time. Other members of his family who will attend are Mrs. Clarence Shepard and Mrs. Walter Gerow of Salinas; Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Gerow of Lafayette; Mr. and Mrs. George Hall of Oakland; Miss Edna Hall and Miss Vesta Hall of Hanford. The Goodes will be represented by Mrs. Hall's brother, Commander John Stuart Goode (USN), Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Walter and Mr. and Mrs. C. Marshall Water of Hillsborough; Mrs. I. Norman Downer and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Spence (artist Mary Jane Spence) of San Jose.

Among Carmel friends who will be incuded in the invitations is the Reverend David Hill of All Saints' Episcopal Church, who attended the University of California with Father Hall.

Timberses' Daughter Visited

Mr. and Mrs. Demarest Pope (Carole Timbers) and their children, Christine and Jeffrey, have returned to Sacramento after a vacation at the Carmel home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Timbers. The Popes brought along their small sailboat, usually berthed at Lake Folsom, so the family could enjoy some ocean sailing on Monterey Bay.

The Timberses also enjoyed a visit from their other daughter, Pat (Mrs. Dick Summer), who was here from Yreka for a week with her children, Scott, Susan and Shannon.

Cruising The Sacramento

Jon Raggett of Carmel and Phil Dirickson of Pebble Beach left Friday with Mark Raggett's Mercury sailboat in tow to launch it at Bethel Island for a week's cruising on the Sacramento River waterways. One of their destinations was Steamboat Slough, where they expected to meet numerous friends who go there each year. Jon will soon be leaving to resume his studies at Princeton University, while Phil will return to the University of Santa Clara.

Left high and dry by the youths' voyage on his boat, Mark Raggett borrowed Johnny Gratiot's sloop for the Stillwater races Sunday and scored a second and third in the competition, proving that a good skipper can sail any boat.

Returned From Norway

Nancy Ness (Mrs. Howard) Bowman returned recently from a stay in her native Norway, where she was happy to find her 84-year-old mother, Inga Ness Andersen, in excellent health and fine spirits. She also enjoyed seeing a sister and several friends during her visit at her mother's home in Bergen.

During her distinguished career as a singer in opera and concert, Mrs. Bowman became familiar with every corner of Europe. Like many who have established their roots here, she says there is still no place like Carmel and that she is glad to be back with her husband and her waiting pupils.

Town House Program

"Techniques of Ceramic Sculpture" will be the subject of a demonstration and talk by Mrs. Cora Foley of Orland on Wednesday at 3 p.m. at the Carmel Foundation Town House.

Mrs. Foley was a student of ceramist Jack Windsor at Chico State College. Her diorama of the Donner Party, on display at the Nevada City Museum, depicts also the history of Glenn County, including the Bear River Indians, the Bear Flag and a large statue of William Ede. The daughter of a mining engineer, Mrs. Foley is well versed in the history of the "Gold Cities" of California.

Tea will be served at 4 p.m. and all interested persons are welcome.

Guest From Australia

"Old friends are the best friends" is a saying not taken lightly by Gail and Diane Fraties, former Carmelites now living in Carmel Valley, nor by John Ryan of Australia who was their guest here last weekend. The friendship, begun in 1957 when Gail reported to the Melbourne, Australia, office of Insurance Companies of North America, has continued to flourish in spite of time and distance. It was at the Fratieses' insistence that Mr. Ryan, during world-wide business travels, discovered San Francisco and Carmel. Since then he has not missed a chance to include the area in his trips, and the trio has managed frequent reunions in other places as well.

The Fraties family returned to the United States for a year before taking up residence in 1960, in Caracas, Venezuela, where they spent four and a half years. To allow Gail to complete his law studies, begun earlier at Stanford Law School, they came back to the U.S. last Fall, and he is now enrolled at the University of San Francisco. In order that the family can be together, Diane and the couple's four daughters will move to San Francisco until Gail has finished his studies, when they expect to make Carmel their permanent home again.

Their multi-lingual children are Valerie, born in Australia, Cynthia and Lucinda, who arrived in Caracas, and Jessica, their only American-born daughter.

A Future Wedding

A late autumn wedding is in the future of Mary Jo Schneble of San Francisco and Paul Fratessa of Carmel and San Francisco. The couple's engagement was announced recently by Miss Schneble's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin Schneble of Rockton, Illinois.

Miss Schneble is a graduate of Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, with a degree in dental hygiene.

Paul, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fratessa of Carmel, attended Carmel schools, Bellarmine Preparatory School, and the University of San Francisco. He was graduated from San Jose State College with a B.S. in civil engineering and is presently employed as a structural engineer in San Francisco. He is the brother of Mrs. Jefferson Scoville of Newport Beach, Mrs. Timothy Crow of San Francisco, and Carolyn Fratessa.

Sunset Commission To Consider Arts Inc. Lease, Also Parking At Sunset Site, On Monday Evening

Monday evening, Sunset commissioners again will meet with members of Arts Inc., a non-profit organization seeking a location for a $5.5 million cultural center. Last Thursday, the two groups discussed a possible lease for the city-owned Sunset school site.

During discussion last week, Malcolm S. Millard of Arts Inc. told commissioners that, although other locations are under consideration, his group has nothing definite in mind other than the Sunset property, at present.

The lease proposed a token yearly rental of $1 for 50 years. During this time, Arts Inc. would undertake construction and operation of the cultural center at no cost to the city. Facilities suggested for the center, at a previous meeting, were a 1,200-seat theatre, a 1,500-seat concert hall, an art museum and parking for 600 cars, with the majority of these spaces underground.

Last week, Arts Inc. emphasized that passage of a city ordinance requiring off-street parking for new buildings in the business district, or an "in lieu" payment to the city for parking at Sunset, should be a provision of any lease between the non-profit group and Carmel. A law requiring off-street or "in lieu" payments has been sent by the council to the planning commission for public hearing. This law would cover any new construction in the commercial zone.

On Monday night, another aspect of parking on the Sunset site will be considered by Sunset Commissioners. In a report, Commissioners Dr. James Gilman and Ted Fehring recommend that a joint committee, composed of two members each from the council, planning and Sunset commissions, be formed for "the express purpose of studying the advisability and feasibility of a parking facility at the north end of the Sunset property," and that this committee should complete its study and report not later than February 15, 1966.

Development of the present baseball field for parking is advocated in the report as a means of furnishing income to meet costs of the Sunset Commission, operating the Sunset facility and Sunset capital outlay projects. In the 1965-66 municipal budget, these total $39,134. In addition, hostelry tax revenue amounting to $28,318 will be needed to pay interest and payment on the Sunset bonds during the same period.

The report pointed out that the city will probably have to operate Sunset for a minimum of two years, even if the ultimate decision is to lease the cultural center facility to a non-profit group.

This makes it imperative that the Sunset plant obtain the maximum of income for the city. Parking is one source of new income and should be studied with great care, the report advocated.

Monday night's meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in city hall.

Carmel Boy Rides Bicycle Across The United States

On Saturday, a 1965 Carmel high school graduate and student body president arrived at Mackinac Island, Michigan, after covering 2,800 miles in 26 days on a bicycle.

The young bicyclist was Tom Hudson Jr., son of Monterey County Supervisor Thomson Jay Hudson, and his wife, Jane.

Last Spring, Tom heard a Moral Re-Armament presentation at Carmel High. It made him want to go to the MRA Mackinac Island demonstration this summer to meet the youth there and "see what we can do for America."

Tom reports he had few incidents on his journey to Michigan He carried his sleeping bag and tarpaulin on his bicycle and slept by the roadside en route, mostly in parks.

"One day," he says, "I got a ticket for going 72 miles an hour in a 70-mile zone,"—and he has a ticket to prove it. However he admits he was going downhill at the time. His best day on the trip was the one on which he covered 126 miles.

With 1,100 young people from 53 nations, Tom is attending activities of the Moral Re-Armament Demonstration for Modernizing America.

He will go on by bike to New York to see the World's Fair when he leaves Michigan, then he plans to work for friends of his parents in the Virgin Islands for a time before returning home at Christmas. His further plans are to join the U.S. Marine Corps.

On his way across country, Tom kept in telephone touch with his parents, at their request, because he was traveling alone.

He had to buy a new bicycle in Denver because he had worn out his old one. He says he never had to go into lowest gear, even in the mountains, and that he inspected colleges and universities along his route.

And as for his new bicycle, Tom says he is never going to part with it. He wants to keep it as a memento of his trip.

A Symposium For Republican Women

The Monterey Bay Republican Women's Club Symposium for Republican Action will hold its monthly meeting Tuesday at 9:45 a.m. in the community room of the Estrada Adobe on Tyler Street in Monterey.

The first of three speakers will be Mrs. Frank H. Myers who will talk on the "Purpose of Education in a Free Society."

Second subject on the agenda will be the "Effect of Fabian Socialism on American Schools and Colleges." The speaker will be Mrs. West W. Champion.

Miss Elsie Crowley, former administrator of California schools in Visalia for 42 years, will speak on the final subject of the morning meeting — "The Free Speech Movement At U.C."

All those interested are urged to attend by Mrs. Rice, symposium chairman. There is no admission charge.

Taxpayers Group Opposes Water District Bonds

The Monterey Peninsula Taxpayers Association at its weekly meeting on August 12 opened a campaign to oppose the water bond proposal of the Monterey Peninsula Municipal Water District which will be voted on at a September 28 special election.

John S. Coates was named executive secretary and Louis B. Gold, campaign director and speakers chairmen.

Mrs. Rody Holt was appointed chairman of the voter contact committee.

Roy Woods was named finance chairman and Vincent R. Bliss, chairman of the committee on research and advertising. In addition to Mr. Coates, the officers of the association are Shirley Houghton, president, Harold C. Arnot, vice-president and C. Mark Thomas, treasurer.

The board of directors, in addition to those already named, consists of B. D. Butler, Rear Admiral C. W. Fisher (USN Ret.), Wright S. Fisher, Talbot Kendall, Zander H. Klawans, Major General James H. Phillips (USA ret.), L. M. "Sparky" Pollard, Dan Searle Sr., Calvin B. Wheeler and Thomas C. White III.

Advisory committee members from Carmel are Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Broaddus, William B. Brown, Colonel C. A. DeCamp, Peter R. Dyer, Frank Putnam, Madeleine Powers Leoni, Major General R. B. McClure (USA ret.), James B. McGrury and H. P. Seymour.

ALTRUSA CLUB PLANS ANNUAL EVENT

The Altrusa Club's main fundraising event of the year, an annual tea and silent auction, will be held Sunday from 2-4 p.m. in the Community Room of the Estrada Adobe in Monterey. A donation of $1 entitles anyone attending to a chance in the drawing for an oil painting by George Greenfield, Peninsula artist, and tickets will be available at the door.

Community services which have benefitted in the past from the club's activities include The Lyceum, Handicapped Activities Unlimited, the Girl Scout Campership program and Beacon House. The organization has also sponsored a student each year to attend the World Affairs Council.

Mrs. David Stephens is the newly installed president and general chairman for the event.

INFORMATION MEETINGS ON MILITARY OBLIGATIONS

Because of the many questions being directed to the Monterey Naval Reserve Training Center by young men eligible for the draft, the center's commanding officer, Commander C. M. Sodersten, announces a special presentation on "Meeting Your Military Obligation" at 7 p.m. on Monday and Thursday evenings this month. The informational meetings will be held at the training center, 100 Lighthouse Avenue, Monterey. All interested young men, also their parents, are invited to attend. Further information may be obtained by telephoning 375-3633.

Commission Adopts Pruitt Report On Cultural Center

Members of the Sunset Commission, last week, adopted a report recommending negotiations with Arts Inc., a non-profit group, be undertaken for the purpose of establishing a cultural center in Carmel. The report was presented by Commissioner James B. Pruitt.

He also recommended that "in order to provide the climate of cooperation and freedom of program necessary to establish a workable lease of the Sunset site with a non-profit corporation, it would seem that the Sunset Commission must state the use and future development of the cultural center in simple, broad form."

Mr. Pruitt's report contained recommendations providing that Arts Inc. should, after establishing a lease with the city, undertake a study on the feasibility of raising funds for a $5.5 million cultural center on the Sunset site and, if found feasible, produce a master plan for the project, determine its cost, arrange a fund raising campaign, construct and operate the resultant facility at no cost to the taxpayers.

All this, advised Mr. Pruitt, should be done "under terms and conditions satisfactory to the city council."

The ultimate intention of this development would establish a cultural center so that citizens of Carmel and the rest of the Monterey Peninsula, also surrounding areas, "shall have the benefit of the finest in music, opera, light opera, ballet, lectures and other performances essential to the education and cultural development of the community; a permanent collection art gallery; a surrounding program to provide a full enjoyment of the graphic arts, amateur and professional theatricals and a recreational center including craft activities."

Mr. Pruitt advised parking as a means to provide income to operate such a development.

"It is the Sunset Commission's hope, that when the cultural center is completed, it will stand as a unique symbol of how the Monterey Peninsula, the surrounding areas, and the City of Carmel can work together to finance a major group of buildings to serve the public," Mr. Pruitt concluded.

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

The first book today could frighten you into everlasting blue-eyed wrecks if you allowed it to do so . . . unless you are a millionaire and in that case you would never read it in the first place. It is called THE RETIREMENT TRAP and it was written by Leland and Lee Cooley, a husband and wife team who live in Laguna Beach. The chapter headings are interesting but the longer sub-headings are more so. Here are a few which are all run together to make a brief resume of the book.

"It is human to avoid facing unpleasant facts. Eighteen million retired American seniors are caught in the fixed income trap at a time when prices for necessities are rising higher and higher. Are the golf courses, the swimming pools, the club rooms, the shuffleboard courts, and the hobby rooms worth what a retired person must pay for them in the new senior citizen communities? With more indignation than impiousness the methods and motives of certain nonprofit, tax-exempt retirement homes are examined and evaluated."

No one knows what the next few years may bring in the solution of the problem of what kind of a life for our senior citizens. No one is growing younger by the day. Everyone is interested in what lies ahead. Here is a book about what is being done right now. Brothers and sisters, let's read.

If you are an inquisitive human, and we hope you are, the next book is a must. GHOSTS I'VE MET is by Hans Helzer who is a ghost hunter. Honestly! Actually, he is a parapsychologist who has specialized in ghosts, haunted houses, poltergeists, and such like. This is not his first book for he did an earlier one called GHOST HUNTER. Read them for a pleasant evening with goose-bumps.

Another in our small but growing collection on surfing is called THE COMPLETE BOOK OF SURFING and is by Peter Dixon. It claims to be an authoritative guide and we hope it is. To evaluate a book like this is hard for a fire-side sportsman.

Two new books are on the education of the retarded child. The one is by Bernice Baumgartner and is entitled GUIDING THE RETARDED CHILD. The other is by Orville Johnson and is called EDUCATION FOR THE SLOW LEARNER. It may be that these books are concerned with distinctly different intellectual levels. The reader must choose which one answers the questions he is most concerned with for his particular problems.

The long friendship of Edith Wharton and Henry James spanned many years, and Millicent Bell has given us a picture of the two writers in a book which uses the two names as a title. This was not a romance, it was a friendship. The author is a professor at Boston University in the English department.

We are caught in the summer doldrums, so far as publishing is concerned. It seems like a good time to take a vacation, so happy vacation to me, and see you in September!

Forest Theater Was A Charming Setting For Children's Play

The charm of a children's play in the city's outdoor Forest Theater, warmed by blazing bonfires at each side of the stage, was experienced last weekend by the several hundred persons who attended each performance of "The Magic Fishbone" presented by the children's drama class of the Carmel Unified School District summer recreation program on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Thirty-five youngsters, the oldest of whom was 14, presented a musical adaptation of the Charles Dickens story under the direction of Gail Dowling. She was assisted by Nancy Davis. Dale Lefler and the children's parents were responsible for the simple but effective costumes. Miss Dowling created the choreography. Frank Girard and Wayne Kendall were in charge of lighting. Bob Tarbox played the piano accompaniment to the children's singing. The sets were constructed by the Donald Brown family, the children of Mr. and Mrs. George Walker and Miss Dowling.

The cast of the two-act fantasy was made up of Jeff Walker, as King Watkins; Kathy Fischer, Queen; Nina Alberts, Princess Alicia; Mark Brown, Mr. Pickles; Carolyn Walker, Mr. Pickles' Boy; Dawn Beckmeyer, Good Fairy Grandmarina; Alison Work, Duchess; Leslye Weinfield, Peggy; Bruce Brown, Prince Certainpersonio. Princes and princesses were Julie Brown, Lisa Porch, Elizabeth Lyman, Deborah Tweedy, Liz Yohman, Patrick Cummings, Marilyn Tweedy, Bob Shefik, Terry Spear, Ken Covington, Regan Beckmeyer, Anna Aranda, Lucy Aranda, Connie Filipek and Susie Grinstein.

Townspeople, functionaries, doctors, dolls and money were played by Becky Walker, Susan Work, Perri Shefik, Pam Peckham, Gail Fischer, Glynis Beckmeyer, Sheri Ratch, Kathleen Walker, Jessica Bryant, Jo Alberts, Monique Dudley and Cathy Tweedy.

CHURCHWOMEN TO MEET

The women of The Church in the Round will meet at 2 p.m. on Saturday at the home of Mrs. Robert Rendrick to discuss plans for the Sunday school.

Carmel author Helen Bratton will speak on "Researching a Book and How To Put It Together." Among Mrs. Bratton's novels for young adults are "It's Morning Again" and "The Amber Flask," a mystery set in Williamsburg.

The Rendrick residence is on Segunda Place in Rancho Rio Vista.

Parties For Nicki

Since Neal (Nicki) Wilson leaves soon to assume her duties as a third grade teacher in the Long Beach schools, friends are honoring her at parties well in advance of the December date set for her wedding to Ensign Michael L. McMahan (USN), currently on duty in the Orient.

Co-hostesses at a Sunday brunch and kitchen shower were Marcia McGinnis and Mrs. Henry Weyrauch III (Ellen McKelvey) who, with her husband, is spending the summer at the home of her mother, Mrs. D. Paul McKelvey. They managed to gather together at the McKelvey home an astounding number of Nicki's friends from the Carmel High School graduating class of 1960.

On Tuesday evening, Mrs. Gordon Campbell and Mrs. Audrey Marten Tetley entertained with a shower in Nicki's honor at Mrs. Tetley's home, inviting a number of friends of Nicki and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Wilson.

Among the guests at these and other parties has been Nicki's sister, Sherry, who returns to the University of California at Santa Barbara as a sophomore next month.

Henry Hoey Wed

Henry Patrick Hoey, son of Mrs. Frederick Godwin of Carmel and the late Walter J. Hoey of Eugene, Oregon, and Beverly Klimko of Medford, Oregon, were married on August 14 at Saint John's Chapel in Monterey. The Reverend John T. Ledger read the late morning ceremony.

The new Mrs. Hoey is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Klimko of Medford, Oregon. She attended the University of Oregon and will continue her studies at San Jose State College, where her husband, a graduate of the University of Oregon, is working toward his master's degree in psychology.

The bride's maid of honor was Linda Fritz of Albany, Oregon, and William W. Hoey of San Rafael was his brother's best man.

Following a reception in the Victorian Room of Pine Inn, the couple left for a wedding trip in Southern California and will return to make their home in San Jose.

Jane Skillman Is A Bride

When Mr. and Mrs. Dana H. Morgan, the former Lita Jane Skillman, return from a honeymoon in California's gold country, they will make their home at San Luis Obispo, where the bridegroom attends California Polytechnic College.

Jane, the daughter of the late Captain John H. Skillman (USN) and Mrs. Skillman of Carmel, was married to Dana on Saturday afternoon in Carmel Presbyterian Church. The Reverend G. L. Markle, a former shipmate of the bride's father, performed the double ring ceremony.

Escorted to the altar by Edward K. Neroda of Carmel, an old family friend, the bride wore a floor-length empire style gown of peau de lin with a floating panel train appliqued with Venise lace and pearls. An organdy pillbox on her hair held in place an elbow-length silk illusion veil, and she carried a cascade arrangement of butterfly orchids and stephanotis.

Her maid of honor was Donna Durein of Carmel and Nancy E. Dreves of Fullerton, Jane's roommate at U.C. Santa Barbara, was a bridesmaid. They were dressed alike in street- length empire gowns of pale peach peau de soie. They wore matching circlets of carnations in their hair and carried bouquets of carnations and autumn roses.

James Pricco of Berkeley was Dana's best man, and seating the guests were Nicholas Johnson of Palo Alto and Richard Strauss of Saratoga.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Skillman wore an ensemble of Celadon green shantung with a matching hat. Her flowers were a corsage of green cymbidium orchids.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Edgar A. Morgan of Palo Alto, was attired in a champagne linen gown, to which she pinned a spray of green orchids. With it she wore a green hat.

Following the ceremony, guests gathered for a reception in Friendship Court and the Fireside Room of the church.

The new Mrs. Morgan, a Carmel High School graduate, has completed her junior year as a sociology major at the University of California at Santa Barbara Barbara and, with her husband, will continue her studies at Cal Poly.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Morgan of Palo Alto, attended Palo Alto schools and will return to Cal Poly as a senior technical arts major this fall.

Planning A Wedding

Juliet Spohn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Spohn of Carmel, will become Mrs. Patrick Twomey on August 28, when the affianced couple will be married in the Blessed Sacrament Chapel at Carmel Mission. The Reverend Theodore Mackin, one of their former professors at the University of Santa Clara, will serve the mass.

Both Juliet and her fiance, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Twomey of Los Angeles, were Institute of Foreign Studies students in Europe during their junior year at college, she at the Sorbonne and Pat at the University of Vienna. Each also traveled in Europe before returning to graduate from the University of Santa Clara.

Pat, who has been an assistant professor of mathematics at the University of Illinois, is changing his career to the field of medicine and this summer is working on a grant at the University of California Medical School. He has received a scholarship to continue his medical studies at U.C. and the couple will make their home in San Francisco, where Julie will teach in the city's elementary school system.

Art News . . .

The Cabrillo Music Festival will exhibit works of contemporary California artists during the weekends of August 20-22 and August 27-29. The pictures will be exhibited in the Cabrillo College library from noon until 8:20 p.m. and following the concerts each Friday, Saturday and Sunday during the festival.

Among those chosen to show their work is Ben Bishop, a local artist.

A children's art exhibition is included in the Monterey County Fair this year. One hundred and fifty creations in graphics and mixed media will be on display outdoors near the main gate of the fair. Robert Skiles, Carmel Unified School District art teacher, was a member of the group which selected the works which will be shown.

"FIRST DESERVE, THEN DESIRE"
—St. Evan

You've worked hard. Your children are grown. Now you deserve exactly what you desire in a home for those wonderful years of freedom ahead. Your desires will probably include a home in excellent condition, in a good location, with minimum maintenance but an interesting setting, near downtown Carmel, and, most of all, a reasonable price.

AT $33,500

Probably the best close in 2 year old home in Carmel. A most unusual reverse floor plan to allow you to step down into a spacious, gracious high-ceilinged living room with a handsome fireplace wall and doors to the deck framing an exciting green-belt canyon view. The kitchen is the last word, and everything is so immaculate you could move right in without ever dusting. ALL appliances included, including laundry.

AT $35,000

Corner lot with one of the finest sunset ocean views in town, just two blocks from I. Magnin, in good-as-new condition with lovely off-white carpeting in the quiet living areas. Two beautiful bedrooms and one bath on the main floor, with an additional bedroom and bath, ideal for a studio or guests, on a lower level.

AT $29,500

A few blocks farther from town and again, a corner lot. Beam ceiling living room, brick fireplace with raised hearth, a nice dining room, electric kitchen, floors are carpeted and hardwood, delightful outdoor living area. Bus nearby.

HOME WITH SEPARATE GUEST ROOM AND BATH—Brick and redwood interior charm and a little view of the Ocean four blocks from I. Magnin's. One bedroom, beamed living room, dining ell and large sun porch on the main floor. You could rent out this part and have the large bedroom and bath underneath with garden patio to come to weekends. Listed at $27,000 to close an estate.

UNIQUE SPANISH INFLUENCE HOME SOUTH OF OCEAN — Under one ownership for the past forty years, this home was custom built for a Latin American diplomat. It is on a large lot with privacy. The fascinating hand crafted rock, tile and iron grill work and extra heavy construction would cost an astronomical amount today. Three bedrooms, two baths, dining room, den with fireplace, plus a separate guest room and bath. If you want a home that abounds in authentic "New World" charm let us show you this one-of-a-kind property. It's an estate sale and bidding should be around $55,000.

FOR SALE

1. We haven't sold that "brown sparrow" so neatly perched on level lot south of Ocean Ave. Fireplace, beamed ceiling. Two bedrooms, one of which opens on the sunniest patio one could imagine and it has a barbecue pit, too. The perfect home for retired couple who have dreamed of living simply and basking in the sun. Everything in perfect condition. The Buyer will not need to know anything about hammers, saws or paint brushes! Only $26,850 and a bargain at that price.
2. Did you love "going to see Grandma" when she lived in a quaint Victorian house with peaked roof and bedrooms tucked away under the eaves upstairs? And that attic full of such exciting things to amuse small boys and girls? Let us show you the one remaining in Carmel. Grandma doesn't live there anymore because the open red-wood stairway is too steep but it should be a dream come true for a younger person or couple with no small children to tumble down the stairs. Listed at $31,950 and the owner might consider a reasonable offer.

Autograph Party For Sierra Club Sur Country Book

Tomorrow at 1 p.m., photographers whose work illustrates the new Sierra Club book will autograph volumes at the Bookworm on Dolores Street just south of Fifth Avenue.

The latest Sierra Club publication features the Sur Coast south of Carmel made famous in verse by the late Robinson Jeffers of Carmel Point. His poetry is used with photographs to urge the conservation of the beauty of the Sur coastal region in this volume.

Many of the pictures are by local photographers. These include the late Edward Weston, his son Cole, Steve Crouch, Wynn Bullock, Ansel Adams and Cedric Wright.

Margaret Owings of Big Sur has written the introduction to "Not Man Apart." The endpapers of the volume depict a hawk which is her work.

"The Sur Country" is the title of an article by Robinson Jeffers which is included in the Sierra Club book and published with permission of Random House, former Mayor Horace Lyon of Carmel and the poet's son, Donnan Jeffers. Pictures include one of Mr. Jeffers in front of Tor House on Carmel Point, and the house itself. There is a strikingly lovely color study of Palo Corona Ranch, south of Carmel, owned by Stuyvesant Fish, as well as many other scenes familiar to Carmelites.

A photograph of Indian handprints in a cave in upper Carmel Valley was taken in 1920 by the late Louis Slevin, Carmel postmaster for many years.

This Sierra Club publication is a treasure for anyone, but to residents of the Carmel area it is a volume beyond worth. M.L.

terest" will be established for this rezoning in order that property owners in the vicinity of the proposed parking lot may state their opinions for or against the matter.

Chairman Florence Josselyn tentatively appointed Commissioner Fred Keeble to fill committee assignments of Commissioner George Willox who is hospitalized following a heart attack. Mr. Keeble and Commissioner Glenn Leidig were both out of town yesterday. Absent because of illness was Planning Director Floyd Adams.

Author-Artist Will Autograph Her Books

Alison Stilwell, now Mrs. William Cameron, author-artist of "Chin Ling The Chinese Cricket," will be the guest of honor at an open-house tea at The Magic Fishbone next Thursday from 3 to 5 p.m. Mrs. Martha Bruggeman, owner of the bookstore and connoisseur of children's literature, re-discovered the delightful book by the talented daughter of the late Colonel Joseph W. Stilwell several months ago and managed to obtain a number of copies of the volume published 18 years ago. Having lived in China a large part of her life, Mrs. Cameron is a distinguished authority on oriental art and her illustrations, in Chinese brush technique, reflect her profound feeling for the people and customs of that country.

Children will be back in school soon, it is everyone's responsibility to maintain the highest possible degree of care. Don't leave their safety up to the policeman at the intersection, or the teacher and playground supervisor at school. It is up to all of us to do our part and remember the basic safety rules. Do not pass stopped busses. Drive slowly past schools and playgrounds. Stop at pedestrian crossings. Remember, they are our children; their safety is our responsibility.

Safety is one of your water company's responsibilities, too. Keeping water safe for human consumption is one of the most important functions of a public water-supply system. We operate under a license issued by the State Board of Health, and water is examined weekly by the County Health Board. Also, our company maintains two fully equipped laboratories for testing purposes. Control samples are taken systematically, and special tests are made whenever conditions require them.
